

Pterospermum acerifolium (L.) Willd.

Family: Malvaceae

Common name: Bayur tree

Local name: Kanak chamba

Importance:

- The tree is gathered from the wild for a range of local uses - medicinal, timber, plate substitutes etc.
- It is planted as a roadside tree or garden ornamental, being valued especially for its beautiful, fragrant blooms; large leaves; and the shade it provides